DAYS AND MONTHS ACTIVITY

You have just become the ruler of a new empire and your first task is to create a new calendar for your subjects. You need to create new names for your months and days. For each day and month you need an explanation for the name you chose. You can choose any title you want – they can be named after famous heroes, songs, movies, or whatever you choose – as long as you provide an explanation. For example, you could create a day called Someday, the day you finally get around to doing whatever you have been putting off all week... Or Croctober, a month in honor of Steve Irwin, the Crocodile Hunter. Be creative! You may not name days after students or teachers at school without their permission.
